

Tech-Savvy Seniors

A list of Northern Sydney organisations that offer free and low-cost digital literacy courses for older adults.

Northern Sydney
Local Health District

Did you know there are low-cost digital literacy courses supporting older adults across the Northern Sydney region?

Digital literacy skills and confidence are necessary to participate in today's digital world – from accessing healthcare, government and community services, to staying socially connected with family and friends.

To help you get started, we have created a list of local and online organisations that offer courses.

For more information on local Healthy Ageing programs

Please note:

This list aims to reasonably represent a range of local organisations that offer free and low-cost digital literacy courses available for older adults in the Northern Sydney region.

It is recognised the list may not be complete and the information provided is a guide only. Users of the list are responsible for making their own enquiries as to courses offered by organisations and their suitability.

Listing the organisations does not reflect endorsement or recommendation by Northern Sydney Local Health District or NSW Health. Information is subject to change without notice.
