DOCTOR TO COMPLETE - WARM WATER AQUA CLASSES

To the Doctor: Healthy Lifestyle offers a number of aquafitness programs which are particularly beneficial because the water supports the body and lessens the stress on people who are overweight, less active, have joint problems or are recovering from an injury.

Most of these classes are conducted in hydrotherapy or heated pools where the temperature ranges from 30°C to 34°C. Exercise in warm water can be tiring and, in the interests of safety, we require participants to have the approval of their doctor.

A. Aside from the conditions listed in the General Health section above, please consider the following conditions when authorising your patient's participation in warm water aqua classes:

- Hypertension, especially if on vaso-dilating drugs.
- Cardiac function, eg cardiomyopathy, valvular disease or ischaemic heart disease.
- Respiratory conditions including post-myoneural conditions affecting respiratory capacity.
- Extreme old age.

B. Contraindications: Patients with the following conditions SHOULD NOT attend warm water aqua classes:

- Pregnancy • Incontinence (urinary or faecal) • Infections (urinary or vaginal) • Skin conditions (eg tinea)

C. Consent: Having read the information above, I consider that this patient is fit and able to attend warm water aqua classes and is unlikely to have a health related event as a consequence.

DOCTOR TO COMPLETE – STRENGTH TRAINING

To the Doctor: Healthy Lifestyle offers a strength training program which consists of educational and practical components. It has been specially developed for older adults 50+ who may be less active and may have weaker muscles and bones.

The classes involve the use of free weights held in the hands and attached around the ankles. Weights are chosen to suit each individual's level of fitness and strength and are progressively increased according to ability and capacity.

Aside from the conditions listed in the General Health section on the reverse, it is advisable to consider, and your consent is required, as to whether your patient may be suitable for the program if they have a serious medical condition or may be at "relative risk". The American College of Sports Medicine has provided the following guidelines:

A. At Relative Risk:

Uncontrolled high blood pressure Uncontrolled metabolic diseases eg Diabetes
Valvular heart disease Cardiomyopathies Complex ventricular ectopy

B. Absolute Contraindications: Patients with the following conditions SHOULD NOT attend strength training classes:

- Unstable angina
- 3rd degree heart block
- Uncontrolled arrhythmias

C. Consent: Having read the information above, I consider that this patient is fit and able to attend the strength training program and is unlikely to have a health related event as a consequence.

DOCTOR TO COMPLETE – FOR UPRIGHT AND ACTIVE

To the Doctor: Upright and Active is a falls reduction exercise program designed for the less active and less able older members of our community.

Following on from a research project with the University of NSW on a randomised/controlled falls reduction trial, Northern Sydney Health is now providing this program to the general community. It involves both educational and practical exercise components designed to improve strength, balance, coordination and reaction time to reduce the risk of a fall.

For safety reasons, and because potential participants are perceived to be at risk of sustaining a fall, we require a signed doctor's clearance for all applicants to the program.

A. Aside from the conditions listed in the General Health section on the reverse, please tick any of the following conditions that need to be allowed for in class:

Visual problems Hearing problems
Joint replacements History of falls Other (please specify)

B. Contraindications: Patients with serious heart or neurological conditions SHOULD NOT undertake the Upright and Active Program.

C. Consent: Having read the information above, I consider that this patient is fit and able to attend Upright & Active and is unlikely to have a health related event as a consequence.
