

Introduction to Hearing Voices

WORKSHEETS

These worksheets work best after you've watched the 'Introduction to Hearing Voices' video

Voice Hearing: The Statistics

The Voices Hall of Fame

Debunking the Myths

Exploring the Meaningful
Aspects of Voice Hearing

Working with Voices

If this is your first time exploring your voices, it may be helpful to work through these worksheets with someone you trust to keep you feeling safe and supported. This could be your:

Family

Friends

Clinicians and support workers

Voice Hearing: The Statistics

Do you hear voices when there is no-one around? You are not alone! Around 5-15% of people will hear voices at some point in their lives.

15 out of 100 people
hear voices

Around 3.7 million people in Australia hear voices

Approximately 1.1 billion people world wide have had a voice hearing experience

For some people the voices they hear can be frightening and distressing. For others, voices can be encouraging or even comforting and they don't get in the way of them living a meaningful and enjoyable life. Some people hear one voice, others hear many. Everyone's experience is different!

I hear two voices – one positive that gives me compliments and keeps me company, and one negative that says frightening things.

I hear negative and critical voices who tell me to do things I don't want to do.

I hear caring and protective voices, as well as mean and nasty voices. I also see visions and sometimes hear music too.

Reflections

Take a moment to think about the following questions:

Can you relate to any of the character's voice hearing experiences?

How does it feel to know that there are other people who hear voices?

Voices Hall of Fame

Did you know that throughout history, many historical figures have described hearing voices. In today's society many famous people have also talked about their voice hearing experiences!

Take a look at some of the most well known voice hearers in our Voices Hall of Fame!

BRIAN WILSON

Musician who was a member of The Beach Boys

LADY GAGA

Musician and actress known for 'A Star is Born'

ANTHONY HOPKINS

Actor known for 'The Silence of the Lambs'

CHARLES DICKENS

Author known for 'A Christmas Carol'

JOHN FRUSCIANTE

Musician who was a member of the Red Hot Chili Peppers

JOAN OF ARC

Heroine and Catholic saint

GANDHI

Social activist, lawyer and politician

OSHER GÜNSBERG

Australian television host

JENNIFER HUDSON

Singer and actress known for 'Dreamgirls'

SIGMUND FREUD

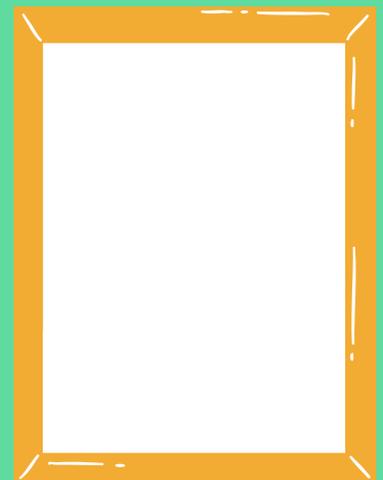

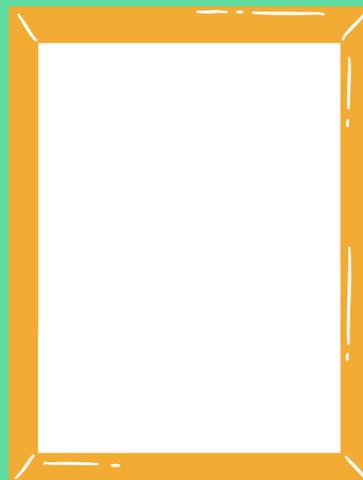

Founder of psychoanalysis

All of these people have different voice hearing experiences and ways of coping. They also all have their own strengths, interests and abilities! Hearing voices doesn't stop you from doing amazing things!

Activity

Have you heard of any celebrities or historical figures who hear voices? Add them to our Voices Hall of Fame below.

Debunking the Myths

Activity

There are many myths and conceptions about hearing voices. Let's debunk a few of them! In the boxes below, write some myths you've heard about voice hearing. Now, think about how you have proven these myths wrong through your own experiences, knowledge or research. A few of the boxes have been filled in with examples to get you started.

Myth:

Fact:

Myth:

Hearing voices is a rare experience.

Fact:

Up to 15% of people have had a voice hearing experience. Take a look at the statistics on page 2 to remember just how common voice hearing can be!

Myth:

People who hear voices will never recover.

Fact:

Voice hearer Eleanor Longden says "Recovery is not only possible but inevitable." Take a look at her recovery story and the stories of others in the 'Exploring Recovery' worksheets.

Myth:

Fact:

Myth:

Fact:

Debunking Myths

Myth:

People who hear voices can't work or study.

Fact:

Many people who hear voices can work or study. Just look at the amazing people from the Voices Hall of Fame on page 3!

Myth:

Fact:

Myth:

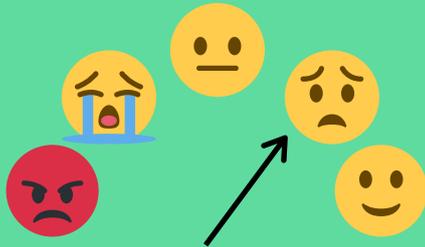

All people who hear voices have schizophrenia.

Fact:

Voice hearing has been linked to many experiences, events and conditions. Take a look at 'The Big Questions' worksheets to explore this more.

Exploring the Meaningful Aspects of Voice Hearing

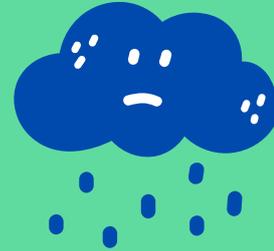

Hearing voices may at times feel like it can be a distressing or negative experience. However some voice hearers have been able to identify meaningful aspects to their experiences. These include:

Voices can highlight an emotional need

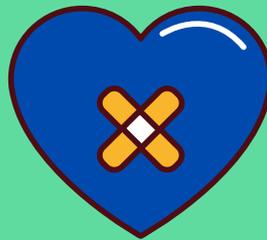

Voices can provide company and ease loneliness

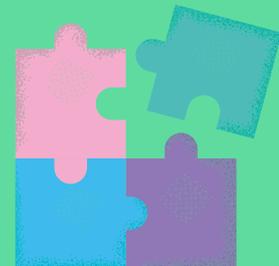

Voices can help to resolve unprocessed grief

Voices can strengthen spiritual connections

Voices can help identify and work through past traumas

Voices can provide a creative outlet for the mind

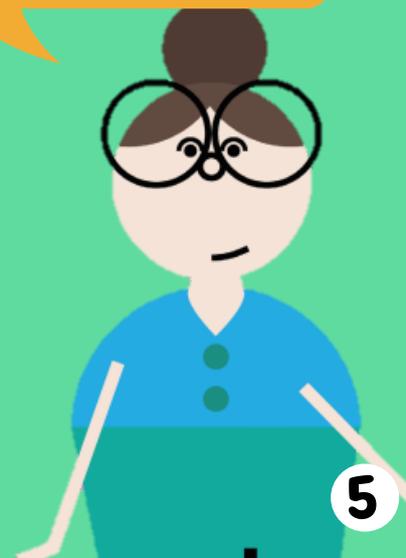

Reflections

Take a moment to think about the following questions:

Can you relate to any of the meaningful aspects above?

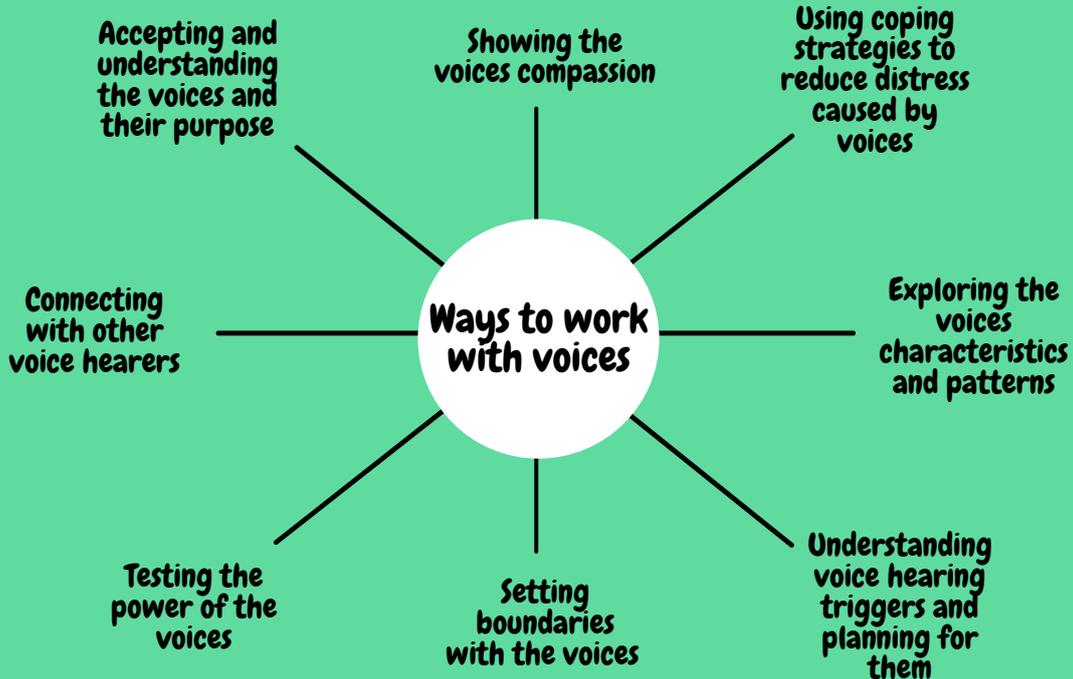

Can you identify any other meaningful aspects of your voices?

Everyone's voice hearing experience is unique. It's OK if you haven't thought about the meaningful aspects of your voices. This can take some time!

Working with Voices

There are many different ways that people learn to engage and work with their voices. Take a look at some ideas below.

Activity

How do you engage or interact with your voices? Do you talk to them? Do you avoid them? Think about how you might like to engage with them differently. Would you like to show them compassion? Or maybe set some boundaries with them? Write down your thoughts in the boxes below.

There are lots of different ways to work with voices. We will be exploring these ideas further in some of our other worksheets!

How I currently relate to and interact with my voices

What I would like to change about the interactions I have with my voices?

Congratulations!

You have completed all the worksheets for 'Hearing Voices: the introduction'! Great job!

Want to keep exploring and working with your voices?

Take a look at these videos and worksheets:

The Big Questions

Exploring Recovery

Navigating the Tough Times

Practical Coping Strategies

The Compassionate Approach

Exploring and Explaining Voices